Course Description:

North American slavery continues to captivate the American public. While scholars have greater insight into enslaved peoples' lives, attention is just beginning to focus on the girls and teenagers who populated Southern plantations and farms. This course examines those enslaved youth by using theoretical frameworks of Black Girlhood to examine how age altered the enslaved female experience. Slave narratives, Works Progress Administration interviews and scholarly research will be examined to explore the concept of girlhood, how it was impacted by race and class, girlhood in relation to slavery and its historiography, and the day-to-day experiences of Black girls and teens as they moved toward adulthood. The course concludes by exploring historical connections with modern day Black girls. Students will analyze these concepts and historic accounts through lectures, class discussions, and an array of data including peer-reviewed journal articles, primary source documents, and audio-visual materials.

Note: This syllabus is a general outline of the course, but it is subject to change. I will let you know if modifications are made.

Course Objectives & Goals:

During the course, students will:

- Be able to identify the concept of girlhood and the manner race and class shapes this developmental stage.
- Understand the theoretical framework used to examine Black girls.
- Examine the historiography of slavery, paying attention to works that engage Black women and girls.
- Explore specific rites of passage associated with the adolescent enslaved female experience.
- Demonstrate an understanding of basic concepts common in discourse about the enslaved female experience in the United States.
- Enhance critical analysis and research skills.
- Practice public speaking and presentation skills.

Course Assignments and Assessments:

Student grades are derived from writing assignments, primary research, and exams. The course has firm deadlines for assignments. Most assignments are submitted via Canvas. Below are brief descriptions for each assignment and their percentage in the final overall grade.

Attendance: (5%) Students are expected to sign-in at the beginning of ALL class meetings. Attendance factors into your final grade therefore it is vital that students attend class regularly.

Black Girlhood Reflections: (10%): Each student will compose a reflection on Black girlhood. 600-900 word reflections should provide the student's definition of girlhood and reflect on what it means to be Black and a girl in the United States of America from a historical and contemporary sense. (Due: January 18th)

Class Facilitator - 10%: Student will co-facilitate a class session with the instructor. Assignment components include: Scheduling a meeting with the instructor via Zoom or during office hours to discuss the upcoming class session, preparing questions that will guide the conversation, and leading discussion of assigned readings for that week. Students must submit a minimum of 5 questions to the instructor as part of the facilitation grade. (Due: Varies by Student; Students will sign up with instructor for due date)

WPA Interview Research (20%):

Students will review WPA interviews uncovering examples of the rites of passage Black girls and teens experienced as they transitioned toward womanhood. 900-1200 word assessments will introduce the interviewees, provide an overview of their lives, and engage the specific rite researched. Topics that will be researched include work, dress, sex, and resistance.

Assessment 1: Work & Dress

(Due: February 4th)

Assessment 2: Sexual Knowledge & Resistance

(Due: February 11th)

Eulogy of an Enslaved Girl-(10%) Write a 300-600 word eulogy for one of the enslaved women we've engaged during the first half of the term (i.e Harriet Jacobs or one of the enslaved women used for the WPA Interview research). Eulogies should reflect on their lives as enslaved girls and their specific experiences. Students will share their eulogy in class. (Due: March 3rd)

Midterm- (15%) The midterm will test your knowledge of various course readings as we progress through the course. (Due: March 8th)

Black Girls Then & Now: (15%)- Students will construct a presentation of American Slavery and Black Girlhood that could be engaged with public school children (K-12) in their classrooms. Projects will consist of some aspect of enslaved girlhood displayed in a PPT or Canva format as well as an age-appropriate activity for the specified audience. In addition to the presentation, students will write a 1200-1500 word project overview that discusses the topic selected, rationale for the selection of the specific topic and activity and identifies the different resources used to construct your presentation. Projects will be presented to your classmates. (Due: April 14th)

Final Exam- (15%) Exam will assess knowledge of the material engaged over the semester. (Due: April 29th)

Note: More specific guidelines for writing assignments will be given as their due dates approach.
Make-up exams will be permitted ONLY at the instructor's discretion.

Grading Scale:

94-100=A, 90-93=A-, 87-89=B+, 84-86=B, 80-83=B-, 77-79=C+, 74-76=C, 70-73=C-, 67-69=D+, 64-66=D, 60-63=D-, Below 60 = E.

Course Policies:

Attendance Policy: Students are expected to be present, punctual, and prepared and sign-in at the beginning of ALL class meetings for the instructor's records. Attendance counts for 5% of your final grade. Without question, students who fail to attend class miss vital information which contributes to their lack of success.

In response to COVID-19, the following recommendations are in place to maintain your learning environment, to enhance the safety of our in-classroom interactions, and to further the health and safety of ourselves, our neighbors, and our loved ones.

- If you are not vaccinated, get vaccinated. Vaccines are readily available and have been demonstrated to be safe and effective against the COVID-19 virus. Visit one.ufl.edu for screening / testing and vaccination opportunities.
- If you are sick, stay home. Please call your primary care provider if you are ill and need immediate care or the UF Student Health Care Center at 352-392-1161 to be evaluated.
- Course materials will be provided to you with an excused absence, and you will be given a reasonable amount of time to make up work.

Communication: Contact me through Canvas. I do my best to respond to your comments/emails in a timely manner during business hours (evenings are excluded). Allow 24 hours during the week for a response to course concerns/emails. Weekends, I do not check email, so it is imperative that you submit any questions to me before noon on Fridays.

Written work format and submission:

All assignments should be

- Written in standard English and demonstrate competence of capitalization, grammar, sentence structure, and paragraph structure
- Typed, double-spaced with Times New Roman, 12 pt. font, 1" margins
- Information with your name, date, and course should be in the top corner, single-spaced, on the first page only or on a cover page
- All work must be properly documented. Students may use APA, MLA, or Turabian.

I will provide feedback on all written assignments; these comments are intended to strengthen your writing skills. They should be taken as constructive feedback, as I am evaluating clarity, content, structure, and sources.

Policy on late/make-up work: All assignments are known well in advance; therefore, permission to hand in an assignment late is only granted for exceptional circumstances.

Academic Honesty: UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Conduct Code. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor in this class.

In-Class Recording:

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

Accommodations: Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access.

GatorEvals:

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>
